What is FE

The only newspaper dedicated to further education and skills

FE Week is without question the primary source of news for professionals working within further education and skills.

It is read by college principals, independent learning provider managing directors, aspiring and senior education managers, MPs, policy advisers, government officials, and other key stakeholders right across the UK.

It is always first to report on the news that matters and it has become part of the sector's daily routine — whether that be checking feweek.co.uk for the latest breaking news stories or reading through the weekly newspaper on a Monday morning.

The newspaper has come a long way. The team has expanded. The stories have become bigger and juicier. The weekly website audience has grown at an incredible pace, from hundreds to tens of thousands. Our sponsored supplements have more than doubled in number, from six to eighteen per year. We are the chosen title for a wide array of advertisers and events in the education sector.

As FE Week is wholly targeted at the further education and skills sector, the title communicates on a weekly basis with a highly influential and targeted audience.

The title is distributed to Gold Members, subscribers and on a multiple subscription basis (whereby whole organisations subscribe), as well as to further key decision makers within the industry.

This, coupled with the newspaper's expert sector knowledge and regular specialist supplements, events and sponsorship opportunities gives you unrivalled channels when reaching out to influential members of the sector.

FE Week has an array of experiences when it comes to being a media partner. We take the role very seriously and realise how important it is for us to be a partner to your organisation for your event. We were proud to be reappointed the media partner for AoC The College Sport National Championships 2017 and WorldSkills UK.

By opting to trust FE Week, the premier newspaper in the FE and skills sector, to promote your brand; you can rest assured that your advertisements and communications will be read by the key decision makers and lead to a successful campaign!

THE EDITOR

@NICKLINFORD
NICK.LINFORD@LSECT.COM

Nick Linford is an expert in further education funding and performance systems and a company director of Lsect Ltd.

He runs a series of popular workshops, conferences and webinars about funding and data, which have been attended by more than 15,000 people in the last five years.

Nick is also author of the Complete Guide to Funding Apprenticeships (www.lsect.co.uk/guide), two books about funding and data published by Pearson and the founding editor for Lsect's weekly newspapers: FE Week (www.feweek.co.uk) and Schools Week (www.schoolsweek.co.uk).

Prior to setting-up Lsect in 2010 Nick established an education think tank at the publishers Pearson, and before that was for seven years Director of Planning and Performance at the Lewisham College, during which time they achieved an Ofsted grade one.

Who reads

A highly influential and targeted audience

FE Week is widely read across the further education and skills sector. The chart below provides a headline overview of our readership.

The newspaper is predominantly read by college principals, private training provider managing directors, aspiring and senior education managers, MPs, policy advisers, government officials, and other key stakeholders right across the UK. The newspaper is sent free of charge to a variety of senior government officials and civil servants as part of our VIP list. This includes the DfE ministerial team and senior management, along with the shadow cabinet team.

FE Week is seen as a high quality and reliable source for employers and think-tanks also. We regularly receive editorial contributions from the major bodies such as the CBI and FSB. FE Week also has an engaged policy expert readership with the key think-tanks, such as Policy Exchange and IPPR.

As FE Week is wholly targeted at the post-16 learning and skills sector, the title communicates on a weekly basis with a highly influential and targeted audience.

FE Week, is an incredibly important publication. I went on my honeymoon in August [2016] and was literally reading past papers on the mountains in Brazil. The way I think of Nick and his incredible team is that they make the social media life of a new minister intolerable, but complacency impossible.

Robert Halfon

Apprenticeships and skills minister

After sponsoring a special Navigating 2017 supplement in FE Week we were very happy with a marked increase in traffic to our website/social media channels. We also received a number of direct enquiries. Advertising with FE Week was very effective and the team were both friendly and professional.

Active IQ unveils Level 3 Diplomas in Personal Training for Health, Fitness and Performance

Active iQ

Active iQ, the UK's leading Ofqual-recognised Awarding Organisation for the Active Leisure, Learning and Wellbeing Sector, has launched two Level 3 Diplomas in Personal Training for Health, Fitness and Performance. Designed with FE Colleges in mind, these fully vocational programmes combine comprehensive theoretical knowledge with practical experience to prepare school leavers to work in the leisure and fitness industry or progress to degree courses.

The Active iQ Level 3 Diploma and extended Diploma in Personal Training for Health, Fitness and Performance are supported by two of the industry's leading professional bodies – the Chartered Institute for the Management of Sport and Physical Activity (CIMSPA) and Uktactive.

Combining college study and work experience with local employers, the qualifications ensure that students will enjoy full educational support and group teaching alongside time on the gym floor working with fitness professionals.

Two variations are available:

- The Active iQ Level 3 Diploma in Personal Training for Health, Fitness and Performance is a smaller qualification that can be combined with other Tech Level, Applied General and/or A Level qualifications.
- The Active iQ Level 3 Extended Diploma in Personal Training for Health, Fitness and Performance is a full time course that includes additional modules to equip students with vocational skills alongside the research skills required for academic study to enable them to access higher education degree programmes.

Both qualifications aim to provide learners with the broad base of knowledge and skills to be able to work in a variety of customer-facing roles within the active leisure industry, including fitness instructing and personal training, as well as being able to access higher education degree programmes.

Who could do this qualification?

Learners must be 16+ years old and have basic skills in communication as discussing, presenting, reading and writing are all involved. A degree of physical fitness is also necessary. On achieving the qualification, learners will be capable of progressing to work as a Fitness Instructor, Personal Trainer or administrator in the active leisure industry.

What will they study?

Study areas include exercise and fitness knowledge, planning and instructing gym sessions, planning and instructing personal training, nutrition, technology in sport and exercise, entrepreneurship, marketing, customer service and managing personal and professional development. Students will learn how to:

- Develop their understanding of anatomy, physiology and nutrition and how it relates to exercise and fitness.
- Plan and instruct safe and effective exercise and physical activity sessions.
- Deliver safe and effective personal training sessions.
- Deliver exceptional customer service.
- Manage own personal and professional development.
- Develop enterprise skills.
- Market and sell products and services.
- Understand how technology is used within physical activity, fitness, sport and exercise.

What will they study?

A mandatory requirement is access to meaningful employer engagement such as structured work experience or work placements to develop skills and knowledge relevant to the qualification, managing projects set with input from industry practitioners and addressing master classes. Employer engagement shows a clear line of sight to work, enriches learning and raises the credibility of the qualification.

Find out more by visiting ActiveIQ.co.uk, calling 0845 688 1278 or emailing businessdevelopment@activeiq.co.uk

Alternatively, learners can progress to higher education degree programmes as the qualifications have been nominated for inclusion in the UCAS Tariff For Higher Education for entry from 2018.

Advanced Study Options

The qualification is designed to offer entry to employment; however it also provides the perfect platform for learners to progress on to the following qualifications and/or apprenticeship frameworks:

- Level 3 Diploma in Exercise Referral
- Level 3 NVQ Diploma in Personal Training
- Active iQ Level 3 Diploma in Instructing Personal Training
- Active iQ Level 3 Diploma in Teaching Yoga
- Level 3 Diploma in Sports Massage Therapy
- Advanced Apprenticeship in Exercise and Fitness

Testimonials

I was really pleased with the response I had to running an advertorial on the FE Week website. The piece was run with prominence and looked great on the site. As a result, we have had a huge jump in traffic while it was running. FE Week were incredibly friendly and professional and we couldn't have asked for a better service.

Emma Burnell
IPPR

I would highly recommend Schools Week and FE Week as the go-to publication for education, further education and skills. I am repeatedly pleased with the response for my client and will continue to work with them in the future. FE Week was a pleasure to work with, always responsive and presenting alternate ideas.
